

Hands on Training on Histological Slide preparation

Date: 14th & 16th August, 2018

On 14th and 16th August, 2018 the Department of Zoology organized a Hands on Training programme on Histological Slide preparation. Dr. Susanta Kumar Bhuyan, Associate Professor of the Department was the Resource person for this programme. During this training programme Preparation of material and its fixation, washing and dehydration, embedding of the tissue, block making, trimming, mounting the block on the block holders, section cutting, stretching, and slide preparation were done thoroughly. Through this training programme students able to learn practically on histological slide preparation.

Section cutting under Microtome